

“Do not imitate the fly before you have wings”

Good morning to everyone present here, today I Hardik Trivedi of class 6-A, stand here before you to speak on a very interesting topic, “Do not imitate the fly before you have wings”.

The reason as to why the fly flies is because it has the means to flying, which are the wings.

If a person wants to imitate the fly and try to fly them, he or she must have the requisite tools or means for flying, which are the wings.

If one realizes that they get no wings, then it shall be foolish trying to imitate the fly because one shall never achieve flight like the fly. Instead, it might end up to injury.
